

WASHINGTON, April 30. The navy supply bill was ready for conference adjustment of differences between the senate and house today, having been passed yesterday without a record vote by the former after it had added provisions calling for expenditure of about $700,000 more than it carried when passed by the house. The total is about $275,000,000, and little difficulty is expected in ironing out the differences.

FOUR MORE HOLES GAP IN CENTRAL BRIDGE

Four more gaping holes were discovered in Central bridge this morning. Three were found by early morning light in the center of the bridge; the fourth was located on the north side paving of the bridge under one of the steel car rails. This hole was plugged by a sympathetic railway workman, who used a good sized rock that filled the jagged hole leading down to the river waters until repairs could be made by street department employees.

Joe Johnson and his two handy men with the horse and dynamite, shovels, planks and tar fillings, had to take their dinners today hanging on the bridge railings, because of the increase in the number of holes on the bridge-way. Today's patches made a total of more than a dozen in all, made since the central bridge began to grow shabby and "holey."

Today's job was a day's job, with four holes to patch up from underneath and then the tar mixture to place over the rough covering. If more holes appear tomorrow, the men are likely that more workmen will have to be called upon. In the meantime, Johnson and his two experts are not worrying, only the three of them wish they could have a change of scenery once in a while.

HUNT GIRL IN POISON CASE

Police Investigating Alleged Poisoning of Mrs. Clarence Baring at White Plains

Husband Said to Have Admitted Poisoning Wife to "Escape Other Woman"

Wanted to Make Wife So Sick She Would Agree to Go to California With Him

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., April 30.—Authorities investigating the alleged poisoning of Mrs. Clarence O. Baring, who charges her husband with feeding her poison and disease germs, today were searching the state for Miss Mildred Bean, 27, daughter of a Marshfield, Mass., sea captain, who with her mother last Monday left their home in Elizabeth, N. J., where the young woman was teaching school.

District Attorney Rowland, who issued a subpoena for Miss Bean yesterday said he had no intention of arresting her. He merely wants to "talk with her very much," he said, "the young woman would be an important witness before the grand jury which already has indicted Baring on a charge of attempted murder, and at the trial."

Baring testified before the grand jury that there was "another woman" in the case, and indicated that it was his desire to "escape from her" which led to the alleged poisoning of his wife. He hoped, the authorities said, he told them, to make his wife so sick she would agree to go to California with him to recuperate.

Rowland, who is still in the Westchester county jail, while his counsel is endeavoring to obtain his release on bail, frankly admitted before the grand jury, according to a partial transcription of the minutes, made public by the district attorney that he had put poison and germs in his wife's food.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

The same success that marked the stage production by George M. Cohan, himself, in characterizing the presentation on the screen of "The Menace of the World," which will be shown for the last time today at the Strand, Bert Lytell is appearing in the original role of Cohan's, and he's making one of his biggest hits in it. Blanche Sweet, Bryant Washburn and other of screen note are engaged in the cast. The second feature is "A Woman's Woman," with Mary Alden, a figure of note in the screen world, who again portrays the role of a mother, as only a Mary Alden can. This is the last showing of these two features. See them today.

The forbidden story of Paris and Monte Carlo—made from a book that is banned by continental police because it tells too much is "Poisoned Paradise," the feature presentation on the Strand program for the week-end, starting with Thursday's matinee. In it Kenneth Harlan, Raymond Griffith, Carmel Myers and Clara Bow are engaged in the principal characterizations. Monte Carlo and the impressions it made on the author are interestingly reflected in this offering. This expense was a tribute to Frank for the comfort of the officials of the gambling resort with the result that the sale of the novel in that principality was prohibited.

The second feature of the week-end bill is the fascinating, spell-binding, marvelous photoplay, "Napoleon and Josephine," a production of the highly successful stage play that played all of the larger cities of Europe and this country. More than two millions of dollars was expended in this production. The usual comedy and weekly will fill out a program of merit.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Two feature attractions of exceptional merit have been booked by Merrimack Square Theatre. They are "The Dawn of a Tomorrow," a George Melford Paramount production, starring Jacqueline Logan, and "On Time," one of Richard Talmadge's most thrilling pieces of screen work. In addition, there will be an excellent program of surrounding features, including a comedy, "The Southbound Limited," starring Monty Banks, and the latest international news.

The story of "The Dawn of a Tomorrow," by Frances Hodgson Burnett, differs from all other successful plays that have been pictured in that it underlines the importance of one's own intellectual attitude toward life, and the effects of things unseen and only thought.

Miss Logan's role as the London wife, Glad, who makes things come right by the strength of her wish, and archly, we regard as one of the greatest attainments of her phenomenal career. There is an inner force about her acting that radiates her impressionism and makes it both strong and subtle. In the scene in which she repels the advances of a daring degenerate and forces him to do her will merely by "faking" and "faking" the unknown power she blindly believes in to compel him, she reaches the height of her performance and grips her audience with genuine power. She has some very excellent assistance from "On Time" and Griffith, the two other feature players, and from several members of the supporting cast. Alvin Bennett and Guy D'Arcy, in "On Time," go to the devil is just what Richard Talmadge does in "On Time," the other feature for the week-end, and in so doing starts the most fantastic, thrilling and humorous sequence of events that have come to the screen of Merrimack Square Theatre in a long time. Of exceptional interest to movie-goers will be the startling stunts performed by the star at the risk of life, such, for example, as jumping from the top of a telegraph pole, seven stories in the air, to the roof of an adjoining building. Supporting the star are little Dave, Stuart Holmes, Tom Wilson, Geo. Siegman, Charles Gray and Douglas Gerrard.

The management announces for the first four days of next week, beginning Sunday afternoon, the screen version of the celebrated novel, "If Winter Comes."

STRAND THEATRE NEXT WEEK

At the Strand on Sunday next will be held the much-heralded local premier of the Universal production, "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," which won the unqualified praise of New York and Boston critics of recent date, being generally heralded as the finest achievement of the age. The magnificent masterpiece runs a beautiful love story.

certain changes being made in order to avoid offending certain religious bodies, but these changes have been endorsed by all who have seen the production. Lon Chaney heads the stellar cast of 1921, which includes such notable as Ernest Torrence, Fatsy Ruth Miller, Tully Marshall, Brandon Hurst, Nigel de Brulier and Winifred Bryson. The majority of these are, as well known on the stage as the screen, it is a mere waste of words to attempt to emphasize the worth of this super-production by Universal. The author—Victor Hugo—was made famous by this and other stories of world-wide note that have come down for generations. The immensity of the production may be judged from the fact that it cost $1,500,000 to produce. The Cathedral of Notre Dame was reproduced in every detail, as well as every street and their buildings of Paris of the time of the story. Lon Chaney's interpretation of the well known character of "Quasimodo," the hunchback, is said to be his best effort to date. That Chaney gives it his best efforts may be judged from his remarks when assigned to the part, that he would give everything he owned rather than give it up.

The local showing will start next Sunday and continue throughout the week, with presentations four times daily. Remember, this same picture was shown in Boston at $2 price, and re-strength in the district to hold her position.

The secretary's announcement was made after representations by a delegation from the Chiconcepe district of Vera Cruz state to the effect that 25 land owners had been massacred by Agrarians.

The total vote polled in Lowell, both republican and democratic, was approximately 5000, with the democrats greatly outnumbering the republicans, who had no contests of any nature within the district or out of it.

Alternate district delegates chosen by the democrats were the only two ballot candidates, Michael H. Hear and John J. Mullaney, both of this city. About one hundred stickers were used for Representatives Thomas J. Corbett and Charles H. Shovey and unless another sticker candidate, Mrs. Maybell A. Kelley of Hudson, can better their totals, the local legislators will also go to the New York convention on alternate names. Mrs. Kelley received three votes in Lowell.

Senator David I. Walsh led the democratic-at-large ticket in Lowell, with John F. Doherty, Mrs. Susan W. FitzGerald and Mrs. Joseph Hear following in order. Sen. Charles H. Cole did not run particularly well here, although victorious in the state. Everywhere in Lowell Cole trailed behind the grouped candidates and the same applies to William H. Doyle of Malden, candidate for alternate delegate-at-large outside the group of eight. Gen. Cole is pledged to Governor Smith of New York.

The republican vote in Lowell was very, very small, due to the absence of contests. The at-large delegation trailed along as one man, although in no precinct did the total vote go above 50.

LOCAL RESULTS IN THE DISTRICT FIGHT

The total votes received in Lowell by the nine candidates for district delegates to the democratic national convention are the following:

O'Sullivan	1330
Barrett	1291
Daly	989

BILLERICA

In Thomas Talbot Memorial hall to-night and tomorrow night, the Altissima Dramatic club of St. Andrew's church, North Billerica, will present the popular three-act drama, entitled: "The Parish Priest." The play is to be given under the direction of James H. Gannon of North Billerica and Thomas J. Beane of Lowell, both well-known in amateur theatrical productions. Between the acts, novelty numbers will be presented by Lowell talent.

The Altissima club, under Rev. Fr. Cunningham, its spiritual director, made an auspicious debut to Billerica and Lowell audiences in the presentation, last September, of "The Irish Rose." Expertly trained in their respective parts, the male and female characters executed their portrayals with an acme of perfection. The success of that initial presentation led its sponsors to start immediate plans for another show, and "The Parish Priest" is the result. A capacity audience is expected to attend the first performance, which starts at 8 o'clock this evening.

RIALTO THEATRE

Capacity audiences at every performance are greeting Tom Mix in "North of Hudson Bay" and acclaim it the greatest picture that this popular western star ever made. "North of Hudson Bay" offers in Mix a role, the like of which he has never before had—and it is not a western picture! It is a re-

Premature Old Age of Women

It is no secret that so many women suffer from ailments peculiar to their sex. Dark circles appear under the eyes, a pale, drawn, haggard expression to the countenance, and the weakness which accompanies such ailments is evidenced by the lagging step, headaches, backache and nervous conditions. Every woman, who is afflicted in this way should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for half a century has been overcoming some of the most stubborn ailments of women. Adv.

plete with dramatic thrills and is guaranteed to furnish a good evening's entertainment. The scene in which Mix, bareheaded attacks a pack of wolves, is alone worth the price of admission. "North of Hudson Bay" will forever be remembered as the greatest picture ever made by Mix. It's different. It's thrilling! It will be shown the remainder of the week.

Other attractions on the bill include "Counterfeit Love," a race track story, a funny Messenger comedy and a Fox News.

H. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

The Four Diamonds, na, na and the boys, put barrels of life into the bill at the H. F. Keith theatre, this week. Their dancing and acrobatic feats are pushed along at top speed, and the demonstration which has thus far fascinated their work has been unusual. "Chain & Archer" with their conversational comedy will hold you to the end. They are real toping performers. "The Piano Tuner" with Charles O'Donnell in the title role, is really one of the most amusing of turns. Then, there are Gus, Watts and Bella Hawley in a likable combination of comedy and music, who stand well up on the bill. Brown & Layelle do a variety of stunts well, and the playing hours are among the best available on the stage. The week's picture is "The Bare Pool Boy."

LOWELL TEXTILE SCHOOL

Annual Show and Dance to Be Held in Auditorium May 9

Paul Whiteman's Legion orchestra is to be the extra attraction at the annual show and dance of the Lowell Textile school, which is to be held in the Auditorium on May 9th, one week from Friday night. When the initial arrangements were made for this year's play the student management searched New England for the leading orchestra obtainable and they have secured this orchestra, that is known all over the country as one of the foremost exponents of jazz music. The Legion returns to Boston next week from the transatlantic trip, and the orchestra will come to Lowell for this occasion only.

The dancing will start at 10 o'clock and continue until 2 a. m. Previous to this the students will present "Nothing But the Truth," a three-act comedy in which will be seen several Lowell boys. In the last few years the Textile school students have presented some of the best amateur productions seen in the city. The female impersonations of several members of the cast have been exceptionally good.

Last year the Textile boys presented a musical comedy, "Frintance," which was entirely written and enacted by the students. The female parts and choruses were taken by the boys with surprising ability. Most remarkable, however, was the work of Howard M. Brigham, who played the leading female role. Several evenings before the play last year he appeared before several thousand people in the Auditorium at a beauty contest held by Rudolph Valentino. By his acting and perfecting of makeup, Brigham was proclaimed the "second most beautiful girl in Lowell" after completely fooling thousands who thought he was a girl. This feat was published all over the country and raised Textile school shows to a new height.

This year also, Mr. Brigham will carry the leading role and John J. Mc-Carthy, Jr., of Lowell, who also starred as a female impersonator last year, will again be seen in a female role.

The play to be presented has been coached by Frank E. Fowle of Malden, a professional coach, whose son, Edwin D. Fowle, a student at Textile, was the author of last year's play, "James H. Bow, of 143 B street, instructor in English at Textile and well known locally for his coaching of many amateur dramatics, is the assistant coach. Edward B. Bell, another Lowell boy who graduated from the Lowell high school in 1920 is the stage manager of the performance. Last year he very capably played one of the female roles.

The cast for "Nothing But the Truth" is made up of students from the states of Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, and South Carolina. There are three Lowell boys, John J. McCarthy, Jr., of 30 Birch street who last year carried a female part in "Frintance," Leonard E. Wilcox and Harold R. Anderson.

The entire cast includes Harry H. Jones of Albany, N. Y., Frank E. Garry of Abbeville, S. C., Lawrence W. Guild of Quincy, Mass., Ronald S. McKenzie of Concord, Mass., Herbert H. Verry, Jr., of Northampton, Mass., Howard M. Brigham of Upper Montclair, N. J., Leonard E. Wilcox, John J. McCarthy, Jr., Harold R. Anderson of Lowell, M. Kenneth Ryan of Natick, Mass., and D. Scott Clement of North Adams, Mass.

COLE DECLARES HIS VICTORY A TRIUMPH FOR SMITH

Smashes Machine Slate and Comes Next to Sen. Walsh as Delegate to Democratic National Convention—Coolidge Delegates Sweep State

BOSTON, April 29.—With the lone candidate favorable to the presidential candidacy of William Johnson overwhelmingly defeated, a delegation of 33, solidly pledged to President Coolidge, was elected to represent Massachusetts at the republican national convention at the presidential preference primary yesterday, according to returns virtually complete today.

Running in opposition to the regular unpledged democratic slate of eight in the contest for delegates at large, Eugene C. Cole, Charles H. Cole, who had endorsed Gov. Alfred Smith of New York, was second only to Senator David L. Walsh as delegate to the democratic national convention returns complete except for 11 precincts in scattered small towns, showed Joseph H. Ely of the regular slate, who had expressed himself as favorable to the candidacy of Gov. Smith, was third, according to the same returns.

Cole, by breaking the group of regulars, caused the defeat of Mrs. Rose Herbert, one of the four women on the going on for many years, but was brought to a head when the Central-ville station manifested less than a year ago. Through the efforts of Congressman John Jacob Rogers, the matter was brought to the attention of postal authorities in Washington and after a complete investigation was made, it was decided to erect the station.

Lowell Boy Dye Specialist

Many, grammar and high schools and also of the Lowell Textile school, as well as the textile section of the United States bureau of standards, at Washington. It is a position that requires extraordinary knowledge and decision affecting all branches of the textile industries the world over.

Mr. McGowan's name was not contained in the press notices covering advance news relating to this week's convention. There is another well known Lowell citizen also slated to deliver an important address at the gathering of the cotton manufacturers in Boston tomorrow. Samuel H. Thompson has been chosen for his topic, "The Community and Industry." Other speakers are listed from many for manufacturing centers and interest in the April meeting, officially opened this morning with registrations, is widespread.

Specialist on Dyeing

The news that a one-time Lowell school boy has advanced to the occupancy of a very responsible position in the textile world, contains interesting features. It shows the rapid rise of local textile student from the study class rooms and the textile composition department, to the field of dyeing. This latter field is the one that the Lowell-bred expert excels in today, as his executive position as chief of the textile section of the government official bureau of standards indicates.

Mr. McGowan is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. McGowan, who live at 35 Varney street, Lowell. There are five children. Another brother, Henry Earl McGowan, went through Lowell schools by the same route as Frank, and also graduated from the Textile school, obtaining a position in the Washington bureau not long ago, after excellent experience in his line of work with the local Appleton mills.

Frank McGowan, who addresses the national cotton men's convention sometime tomorrow, is a member of Textile school class '15. Henry graduated in 1922. The former attended Morrill school on Common street and the high school in succession.

The bureau of standards is actually "the court of last resort" following many cloth industrial disputes over colors, textures and qualities.

Convention Opens

The semi-annual session of the manufacturers opened this morning at the Copley Plaza with registration at 11 o'clock. At 1:30 this afternoon, President Robert Atney presided at the first business session of the members. Reports were received from Major Harry C. Messervy, secretary, and W. Irving Bullard, treasurer. President Atney addressed the members afterward. Chairman John A. Sweeney was chairman of the main session this afternoon.

devoted to discussions of the cotton industry. The general topic was "Cotton and the Making of Industrial New England." Secretary Messervy spoke on "The Founding and Growth of Industrial New England." Magnus W. Alexander of New York gave an address on "The Cotton Industry as Part of the National Economy."

The convention banquet will be held this evening at 7 o'clock. Samuel W. Vancian, president of the Baldwin Locomotive works of Philadelphia, is the principal speaker listed.

Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, resolutions committees will report and there will be speakers on industrial affairs, including Mr. Samuel H. Thompson of this city and Russell B. Lowe. In the afternoon, James E. Coburn will be the chairman. Numerous experts will discuss new features of the cotton industry, its expansion, values and needs. The resolution committees include the names of John C. Wadleigh of the Merrimack Mfg. Co., A. D. Milliken is a member of the technical progress committee.

BUICK DEVELOPMENT INTERESTING STORY

How was Buick able to reach and to keep up its standards of value? First—by being absolutely certain that correct engineering principles were used as a basis on which to build the Buick car. Wide experience and careful research showed the value of the valve-in-head principle of motor construction, and Buick adopted this principle at the outset. Every other part of the car was built on principles that were equally sound. Buick's problem from year to year then became merely a question of incorporating in its cars the improvements developed by each year's experience, without changing the basic principles of design.

Second—they realized the importance of developing a factory along the lines of the highest efficiency in which every important part of the Buick could be built under the careful supervision of the engineering department that designed the product.

Third—Buick realized the importance of developing a sales and service organization, nation-wide in scope, that would make it possible for motorists everywhere to purchase Buick cars, and that would insure Buick owners of high grade authorized Buick service, in keeping with the quality built into the Buick product at its factory.

COOLIDGE AND COX WIN IN OHIO

Sweeping Victories for President and Former Governor in Primary Election

Vote Regarded as the Lightest Ever Cast in Ohio Primary Election

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 30.—(By the Associated Press.) Both President Coolidge and former Governor James M. Cox of Ohio, the democratic candidate for president in 1920 won sweeping victories in Ohio's primary elections yesterday. The vote was probably the lightest ever cast in an Ohio primary election, officially estimated at about 18 per cent. of the potential vote.

President Coolidge won the state's 51 delegates to the national convention and was given better than a six to one endorsement over United States Senator Hiram Johnson of California.

Mr. Cox probably will go before the democratic national convention with his home state's 49 votes pledged to support him and backed by a popular endorsement of his party by a two and one-half to one vote over William Gibbs McAdoo. His probable 48 votes will be represented by 52 delegates, the eight delegates at large each having but half a vote.

Former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty, defeated four years ago for delegate at large by almost 1000 votes at the time former President Harding carried the state on preferential choice, yesterday was elected a member of the Coolidge state delegation at large, but was probably low member of the group. He won over the highest Johnson delegate by about 4 to 1.

The vote in 6145 precincts out of a total of 8360 precincts in the state, showed President Coolidge leading Senator Johnson by more than 100,000 votes, and former Gov. Cox leading Mr. McAdoo by almost 35,000 votes. The vote in 4145 precincts was: Coolidge 127,544; Johnson 20,297; Cox 55,845; McAdoo, 21,214.

President Coolidge carried every county in the state. Mr. Cox apparently has not been so fortunate as he probably will be forced to yield a few of the smaller counties to Mr. McAdoo. U. S. Senator Hiram D. Fess was leading the Coolidge state delegation at large in returns from 1918 precincts with his colleague, Senator Frank B. Willis, running a close second. Mr. Daugherty made his poorest showing in Hamilton county where he ran

WILCINSKI GETS STATE PRISON SENTENCE

Frank Wilcinski, charged with the murder of William Malinski at 12 Bent's court on February 16, pleaded guilty to manslaughter in superior criminal court late yesterday afternoon and was sentenced to serve from 3 to 10 years in state prison.

Wilcinski's counsel, Attorneys Cornelius J. O'Neil and Joseph P. Donahue, told Judge Fosdick that their client suffered from aphasia and had been unable to tell them anything about the crime. The defendant admitted visiting Malinski's home where several men were drinking, after that he remembered nothing. The plea of manslaughter was acceptable to the district attorney and the court.

FAIRBURN EMPLOYEES HAVE GLORIOUS TIME

Fairburn's market workers of both sexes scored a big success at the first annual "Fair Party" of the season, conducted last evening with a program of many delightful special features by the Mutual Benefit association members employed at the popular pure food emporium.

Old Fellows' hall in Chelmsford Centre was the scene of the festivities and besides many local friends and business associates of the store clerks present and happy, there were guests galore from far-away points and also happy members of the store executive management staff, eager to enjoy a evening "Fair Party" and provided in abundance in the April take of the good-fellowship offerings provided in abundance in the April social calendar.

The entertainment committee provided an excellent banquet, with every delivery of the season served in beautiful measure to the delight of the association members and their guests. Features of the sparkling post-lunch party were songs by Fred Cummings, Raymond Kelly, Annabel Conway and Mary McGowan, also special acts by "Bud" Berger. A vaudeville team consisting of John Ball and Edward Donohue, pleased with funny sketches. Favor and novelty dances were featured in addition to one of the best programs ever presented at a "Fair Party."

The dance hall was pleasantly decorated by William Plant. The committee in general charge of the social consisted of Daniel McGrath, general manager; Frank McGraw, chairman; Thomas Kelly, William Harrington, George Watson, Miss Mary Mullen and Miss Elizabeth Conway.

more than 6000 votes behind William Cooper Proctor, who was high on the list in that, his home county. Mr. Daugherty also was outstripped in his old home county, Fayette, by both Senators Fess and Willis and was last in Franklin county (Columbus) his present home.

WHEN YOU BUY A BUICK

You get more than just an automobile. Yes, even more than a Buick automobile. You get Buick service, which is, after all, more important than the automobile itself.

When you purchase any automobile, it is the service which the car will give that you really want, not the vehicle itself. The most beautiful automobile in the world would be worthless if you couldn't get service on it and from it.

BUICK SERVICE is spread all over the North American continent. Wherever an accident might occur, Buick service is within easy reach.

BUICK SERVICE IN LOWELL means that you can get any part of a Buick automobile from a fender to a motor at a minute's notice. No long waits for replacement units to be sent from the factory, etc., which necessitates days and perhaps weeks of waiting.

The Final Proving Ground

There is one test which discloses the true worth of a motor car more fully than scores of factory experiments. It is the experience of owners in every day use of the car over a period of time. The enthusiasm expressed in many V-63 owners' letters indicates that this experience is highly satisfactory.

"You SOLD me my first Cadillac car, since then I have BOUGHT my Cadillac cars."

"Our 1918 Cadillac had done its fifty thousand miles so satisfactorily and was then performing so nicely, I hesitated to part with it but all uncertainty has been dissipated by the performance of my new V-63."

"You know I was not 'sold' on four wheel brakes when I bought the V-63 but I now regard CADILLAC four wheel brakes as a very essential safety device."

"Do I appreciate your service? Well, without a CADILLAC or without your service, either one or the other, I think I'd walk."

"I have driven my V-63 since last November. It has plenty of power, speed and smoothness and the four wheel brakes have converted another doubting Thomas. As you know, I bought this car after trying out three other makes of cars in your price range and I now have no regrets because of my choice."

"I have driven my V-63 some five thousand miles and in my judgment I safely pronounce it the King of all CADILLACS which to my mind is the greatest compliment I could place upon the new car."

SPEAKER AT LIONS' CLUB LOWELL ROTARY CLUB

Interesting Talk by Manager of Local Street Railway Division

Rotarians Honor Memory of Fire Capt. Cunningham—Yesterday's Meeting

"Suburban and interurban street railway lines are doomed by the automobile," said Manager Maurice E. McCormick at the regular meeting of the Lions club yesterday. "But the street railway lines in the cities are here to stay and will never be put out of operation by automobile competition."

President Charles E. Bartlett of the club presided at a short business meeting which preceded Mr. McCormick's address and which was featured by the naming of delegates and alternates to the district convention of Lions in the national city of Washington, D. C., and the naming of a committee to challenge the Lowell Rotary club to a golf tournament.

The following delegates and alternates were named: Frank E. Kimball, Frederick S. Harvey, Leo Smith, Edward C. Carter, James Johnston, Gardner Farnsworth, Joseph McHenry and John M. Geary.

The golf committee follows: Chairman Fred S. Harvey, Edward C. Carter and Edward J. Geary.

Mr. McCormick was introduced by President Bartlett, who announced his subject as "The Street Railway Industry."

"The industry is growing," said Mr. McCormick, "for it was not until 1910 that street cars were abandoned, prior to that time the service consisted of horse drawn cars which were necessarily slow and which could not cover great distances. In 1910 or thereabouts the electric motor for the propulsion of street cars was invented and first put into use. This motor revolutionized the industry."

"At that time no one knew the extent of the street railway field and many lines were constructed that should never have been built, serving districts where the revenue never could cover the cost of operation, not to speak of the cost of construction. These lines were built in good faith, but nevertheless they were poor investments and seriously affected the industry in later years."

"From my experience in electric railroading," he continued, "suburban and interurban electric car service is doomed by the automobile, but the city electric car lines are here to stay and will never be put out of operation by automobile competition. Buses will never succeed electric cars in city operation for they are not as efficient and take in altogether too much room on the streets."

"Up to 1915," he continued, "the industry grew rapidly and a total of over 15 billions of dollars was invested in street railway companies. Since 1915, however, very few miles of new lines have been built and many miles of use less lines discontinued."

"The industry is one of the greatest in the land, doing a gross business of over a billion dollars yearly. Yet it has the smallest net income of any of the larger industries. The reason is the same as in other transportation industries, such as steam railroads and automobiles; too much was attempted before the field was known."

"In Lowell when the trustees took over the Bay State lines, the local dividend faced a deficit of several hundred thousand dollars. Since taking over the lines, the trustees have improved necessary service, paid operating expenses out of revenue, and paid off a small part of the deficit."

"All this was done regardless of the fact that operating expenses increased a hundredfold for we met increased cost with increased efficiency and decreased cost of operation; the latter brought about mainly through the one-man car. We have kept accurate records of riding on all cars in the city and have arranged service to meet the demand with the result that we have cut down the total car mileage in this city about 470,000 miles a year."

Mr. McCormick dealt briefly with the efficiency methods in the repair of cars, the centralizing of repair shops in Brockton and Chelsea, and the purchase of one or two standard types of cars, with the result that car failures average only one in 10,000 car miles.

In regard to traffic conditions in this city, Mr. McCormick said that many complaints are heaped to the effect that cars are packed during the rush hours. "The average number of passengers per car mile," he said, "is seven." The reason for backed cars, he said, is that everyone wants to ride during these hours in the day and that it is the persons who stand in the cars who make the operation of cars during the rush periods pay, for to provide extra cars and men for the rush periods alone, the company has an investment of approximately $1,250,000.

James C. Higgins of Boston was the speaker at the Monday luncheon of the Lowell Rotary club, at the boys' club, Dutton street yesterday.

Arthur C. Spaulding, president of the club, presided at the brief business session which preceded the speaking. The Rotary song book, diners noted, has been superseded by a splendid pamphlet called "Songs You All Can Sing." This pamphlet contains 64 songs for all occasions and is the compilation of Albert Edmund Brown, who today led the singing. The foreword of the pamphlet says in part: "The period of experiment in community singing is over. Now follows development. This collection of songs is dedicated to the advancement of such development."

The usual Rotary roll call followed the dinner and mass singing.

Honor Capt. Cunningham. "Service before self," the Rotary motto, was wonderfully exemplified by Capt. Cunningham, whose funeral service was passed in solemn haste, said President Spaulding in opening the meeting. At his suggestion all stood for a moment in silent homage and respect to the fire hero's memory.

Willard Parker as chairman of the day, introduced Mr. Higgins, who he explained, is both a sales manager and a poet.

Mr. Higgins said he was a "news-paper poet" and found it quite a congenial side-line. Mr. Higgins' talk was a coherent, pleasing combination of prose and verse that created many carol-lined and serious faces among his audience with smiles.

Mr. Higgins quoted Tom Dole of Indianapolis, Edger A. Guest of New York, the late Joyce Kilmer and others, presenting their best poems in a most fitting and appealing manner. He mixed his splendid bits of verse with just the proper proportion of funny stories. His stories were all new, funny, and wholesome but his verse quotations, perhaps because they are the more rare, made the greatest appeal.

HONDURAN REBELS TAKE TEGUCIGALPA

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The Honduran revolutionists have completed their occupation of Tegucigalpa, the capital, and Rear Admiral Dayton, in command of the American naval squadron in southern waters, has recommended withdrawal of the American landing party sent to that city some weeks ago.

Major Morales reported today that the rebels were in complete control of the city and that order could be maintained. All foreigners in the city are safe, and the de facto force has fled.

A similar report was forwarded by Admiral Dayton. He suggested that the withdrawal of 157 blue-jackets at Tegucigalpa be withdrawn tomorrow.

The president stopped all ceremonies on account of his death.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 29.—The police of Providence and half a dozen surrounding towns are today concentrating their efforts on finding the automobile in which nine-year-old Clementine Cosmo, was abducted from East Providence last Tuesday by a man who subsequently assaulted her, murdered her and buried the body in a field in Lincoln.

The best description of the man wanted by the police have yet obtained is that given by Edward Farn, 22 of East Providence, who saw the Cosmo girl being driven away by her abductor.

The East Providence police are holding one man until his movements during the past week have been thoroughly investigated.

The colored Worsley mill of Providence today added $1000 reward, making a total of $1000 already offered for the arrest and conviction of the child's slayer.

ANOTHER DARING ROBBERY IN N. Y.

COMMON SENSE

When a merchant advertises his wares in a newspaper, he does not appeal to the paper, but to its readers. He solicits the patronage of those readers whether he agrees with the policy of the paper or not.

To refrain from advertising in a paper of wide circulation simply because he does not agree with the editor on all public questions, is not using common sense. It is a form of business suicide. It has sent many short-sighted business men into bankruptcy. A dealer might as well put a sign over his store notifying all who do not think as he does that he does not want their patronage. Readers of newspaper advertisements know when and where their patronage is welcome.

TO USE GRANITE BLOCKS

Permanent Paving to Be Laid
By State Within City
Limits on Boulevard

Through an agreement reached yesterday in Boston, Princeton boulevard will be paved with a road of granite block with asphalt shoulders, from Livingston avenue to Baldwin street. Mayor Donovan, the members of the board of public service and city engineer Stephen Kearney conferred on the project with Commissioner of Public Works William E. Williams and his two associate engineers.

Mr. Williams explained that the state at this time is ready to build a 20-foot concrete road from Livingston avenue to North Chelmsford square. The city asked that the road be paved for its full width of 22 feet from Livingston avenue to Baldwin street. Mr. Williams replied that as a measure of economy and in order to stretch state funds, only a 20-foot road would be laid.

Mayor Donovan asked what the prices would be for granite block and for cement concrete. Mr. Williams replied that cement concrete would cost the state but $30,000 as against $35,000 for granite block. The mayor, after a brief talk with the members of the public service board and the city engineer, proposed that the city should put in a six-foot asphalt shoulder on either side of the state road, leaving granite block at a width of 20 feet in the center. This was agreed upon.

Mr. Williams explained that the purpose of his department against granite block is only because it is the more expensive and so a preference for cement concrete is shown, purely, he added, as a matter of economy.

Through the agreement of yesterday, Princeton boulevard, for its full width of 22 feet from Livingston avenue to Baldwin street, will consist of granite block paving in the center, 20 feet wide, with six-foot ribbons of asphalt on either side.

Contractor Jewett, the low bidder for the job, told the mayor that as a result of this agreement he will buy his block locally. He estimated that he will spend $20,000 in the city, if not more, for labor and materials.

Francis A. Connor Resigns As Building Inspector

to confirmation by the city council. The letters, exchanged today by Mr. Connor and the mayor follow:

The Resignation
Dear Mr. Mayor:
I hereby tender my resignation as inspector of public buildings to take effect on April 30, 1924. As you are aware it is with a great deal of thought and deliberation that I have reached the above decision.

My reason for withdrawing from public service is, as I told you some time ago when I asked to be relieved of my duties, I felt that it was for my best interest to re-enter business which I left twelve years ago to take up my duties with the city. At the present time there is a great demand for men in my line of work and I feel that I am allowing a promising opportunity to slip by if I do not avail myself of this demand.

I want to sincerely express my appreciation to you for the treatment and assistance given to me by you during your administration. You have ever shown yourself as being interested in my department and have been most willing to co-operate with me and my office in every manner for the best interest of the city.

I hasten to assure you that my relations towards you will always remain as they now are, most cordial, and that I will be able to regard you as a sincere friend.

Respectfully submitted,
FRANCIS A. CONNOR

resignation tendered to me today to take effect on April 30, 1924.

I feel that by your act the city has lost a capable and faithful public servant, one who has given unstintingly of his time and energy in the performance of his duties.

My association with you has been most pleasant and I want you to carry with you into your business my best personal wishes for a very successful business career, and I know you will have.

Very truly yours,
JOHN J. DONOVAN,
Mayor.

Mr. Connor was appointed to the position in 1912 under the commission form of government, defeating the late James Dow in a contest. His resignation marks the third resignation under the present administration, the others being Jeremiah J. O'Sullivan who resigned as city solicitor and Daniel Hogan of the board of assessors.

The bride wore a grey crepe de chine gown with shadow lace trimming with a picture hat to match and carried a bouquet of white roses and sweet peas. The bridesmaid wore a gown of blue-brocaded silk with picture hat to match and carried a bouquet of sweet peas. The bride's gift to the bridegroom was a silk umbrella and the bridegroom's gift to his best man was a pair of gold cuff links. Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Margaret. The couple left on an extended tour to New York.

STREET RAILWAY MEN'S AGREEMENT EXPIRES

At midnight tonight, the working agreement between the local street railway company and its employees, members of the international electric railway employees' union, expires and up to the present time no new agreement has been accepted by either the company or the employees.

Under the present agreement no provision is included to care for such a condition as will arise tonight with the expiration of the agreement, but Trustee Fred Crowley of the road said this morning that members of the union joint conference board and the trustees had agreed that the present agreement should stay in force until a new agreement is accepted.

For several months, members of the union joint conference board and the trustees of the road have held conferences in Boston concerning a new agreement and it is reported that both sides have offered agreements which have been unacceptable to the other party.

Both the union representatives and the trustees of the road agreed to give no information to the public until the completion of conferences and the acceptance of a new agreement. It is understood, however, among local carmen, that the union is seeking a wage increase and that except for this one point, the agreement is complete. Mr. Crowley said this morning that the new agreement should be ready within a short while.

LOWELL REAL ESTATE MEN WIN CASE

Albert Bergeron and Eleonore St. Pierre of St. Pierre & Bergeron, real estate brokers of this city, today heard such in the sum of $10,000 by Mrs. Nora McNeill of Everett, won their case at the civil session of the superior court at East Cambridge yesterday.

The case, which was scheduled to go to trial in 1923, was later dismissed because of failure of counsel for the plaintiff to bring it to trial within the time limit set by law. Last October, however, counsel succeeded in again placing the case on the trial list, and the trial was started last week.

The plaintiff alleged that on July 1, 1913, while walking across a boulevard at Revere beach, she was struck by an automobile owned by the defendants and operated by one of them, and as a result sustained severe and permanent injuries.

The case was tried before Justice Stanley E. Qua and a jury and yesterday verdicts were rendered for the defendants. The plaintiff was represented by J. Burroughs of Everett, while the defendants' counsel were Arthur I. Egan of this city and John St. Morrison of Boston.

LAWRENCE GIRL KIDNAPPED

To Probe Lowell Fire Equipment

SISTERS CALLED FROM MILL UNDER PRETENSE OF MOTHER BEING ILL

One Seized in Busy Street in Lawrence and Spirited Away in Auto—Police Follow Machine to Methuen and Arrest Two at Gun Point—Girl Still Missing

LAWRENCE, April 30.—Agatina Cavallaro, 17, of West Andover, and her sister Josephine, 18, were called from their work in a local mill this morning by a telephone call, being told that their mother was seriously ill. They were on their way to get a car home when an automobile containing several men drove up to them and Agatina was seized and spirited away. The kidnapping occurred near the Duck mill on South Union street, a busy thoroughfare.

The other sister notified the police and Motorcycle Officer William P. Dow followed the (girl) to the Pleasant Valley district of Methuen, where he arrested two men at the point of a revolver. The men are Sam Buffalo, 32, of Common street, Lawrence, and Mario Tosto, 33, of Oak street, this city. According to the police the men admit they were in the car with the girl, but they said they had left the girl and two or three other men in a house in Pleasant Valley. They are charged with kidnapping. One of the men was scratched as if he had been in a tussle, the police say. Lawrence and Methuen police are searching houses in Pleasant valley. The men under arrest, have refused to say where the girl is, the police say.

Local and Methuen police will be assisted this afternoon by members of the state constabulary in searching houses in the Pleasant Valley district of Methuen in an effort to locate the missing girl.

From Albany, Ga., word was received that considerable property damage resulted, but that no one was injured. At Lawrenceville, Ga., six persons were reported injured and property damage of $200,000 was done. A church was blown down, and a mill village was partially demolished.

Twenty houses and barns were leveled by a tornado at Autaugaaville, Ala., and several heads of livestock killed. A church was badly damaged. All available doctors and nurses left Anderson, S. Rev. Dr. Wilson Replies to Appeal to Strike Out 18th Amendment

SPRINGFIELD, April 30.—Rev. Dr. Clarence True Wilson, of Washington, D. C., general secretary of the Methodist board of temperance, prohibition and public morals today telegraphed a challenge to President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia university to present the prohibition question before the Methodist general conference here on May 22. Dr. Butler was quoted in press despatches published today as calling upon "men and women of religious faith, moral principle and public spirit to strike the 18th amendment from the constitution."

Dr. Wilson in his challenge said: "The evening of May 22, is designated as the time for the discussion of the Methodist relation to the prohibition situation. You claim that prohibition has promoted temperance, immorality, and disrespect for the law. I claim it has promoted temperance and is giving millions a respect for law that they never had when it licensed the liquor traffic. We will give you one hour in two equal parts to discuss your side of it on that night before the Methodist general conference, and I will come to Columbia to present my side with you on any date you designate. The Methodists are nearly all for prohibition and you could do missionary work among them. Columbia university is as wet as we are dry and I would esteem it a privilege to have a chance to present our side to such a group."

O'Sullivan, Barrett, Golden and Wilcox to Go to Democratic Convention as District Delegates

Humphrey O'Sullivan and Andrew E. Barrett of Lowell and Bernard J. Golden and Walter H. Wilcox of Woburn were elected delegates to the democratic national convention from the Fifth Congressional district at the presidential primaries yesterday. Golden and Wilcox finished eighth and ninth in Lowell, but polled large votes in their home city and finished ahead of John W. Daly and Miss Katherine P. McCarthy of this city, who ran well in the local balloting.

The district delegate fight with nine candidates on the democratic ticket was the only spot where any interest was manifested locally but the total vote in the city was too small to hope for election of more than two local candidates, with two well known Woburn men sure to receive the solid support of democrats in that city. Therefore, the two cities divided honors, each electing two men. Miss Katherine P. McCarthy ran particularly well in Lowell, where she finished in fourth place, but could not muster enough

PUBLIC SAFETY COMMITTEE TO PROBE IMMEDIATE NEEDS OF FIRE DEPARTMENT

The public safety committee of the city council at its meeting tomorrow night, will confer with Fire Chief Edward F. Saunders on the question of bringing up to date the city fire apparatus, the replacement of apparatus seriously damaged or destroyed in Sunday's fire, and also the replacement of hose destroyed at the same fire.

Councillor Jos. F. Hennessey, chairman of the committee, said this morning that at this meeting the question of replacing all horse drawn apparatus with modern motor apparatus will be discussed. In his opinion, the department needs considerable new equipment, and the present time, while the memory of Sunday's fire is still fresh in the minds of the public, is the time to recommend a complete reorganization of the department's equipment with a view of making it the equal of the best department in the state.

While most of the front wall of the Associate building was being brought to earth this morning by wreckers working at the scene of Sunday's tragic and disastrous blaze, the upper part fell into the middle of the building, but at about the second floor the mass of brick buckled and fell into the street. Bricks were tossed the width of Moody street and the high voltage trolley feed wires were torn down, spitting fire to the street.

Joseph Worthing, an elderly man living at 11 Fletcher street, lost his footing while trying to run with the large crowd of spectators away from the hurling, threatening mass of brick and mortar. He fell to the street, a woman with a babe in her arms was knocked down by the jostling crowd but managed to regain her footing and apparently was not badly injured.

Mr. Worthing was rescued from his precarious position by Policeman Francis O'Loughlin, on duty within the thru, who rushed to the man's assistance with the utmost disregard for personal safety. Mr. Worthing was taken in the ambulance to St. John's hospital where it was found he was not seriously injured.

A train of shattered and broken brick had fallen upon him, but fortunately none landed in vulnerable spots. At the hospital it was stated he was badly shaken up and frightened to some extent but not at all seriously hurt. Runners sprang quickly downtown that he had been struck by a falling trolley wire and stunned when coming in contact with the high voltage. This was found not to be the fact.

Workmen from the street railway company, a full emergency crew, were on the ground and lost no time in taking care of their wires.

Hair You Envy

I offer you what brought it
By Edna Wallace Hopper

My hair is the envy of thousands who see it, on the stage and elsewhere. It is heavy, silky, lustrous—far finer than 40 years ago. I have never had falling hair or dandruff, never a touch of gray. Yet mine is a grandmother's age.

I owe this to a formula which French experts made for me. I have supplied it to many friends. It has brought to them what it brought to me. Lustrous heads of hair. Now, to countless queries, I am placing this formula, which in every woman's reach. Men are also welcome to it.

Use an eye dropper

I call this formula my "Hair Cream." One applies it with an eye dropper, directly to the scalp. Apply just enough to dampen the scalp. This takes but a minute and it does not smudge the hair.

It attacks the hardened oil and dandruff, which clog the hair roots. It cleans the scalp, stimulates and fertilizes. Then hair domestic, as flowers thrive in a well-kept garden.

Hair troubles come from clogged hair roots. "Gray hair" comes from lack of nutrition. The way to prevent those troubles, to make hair thrive, is to cultivate the scalp. The best way science knows to do that are embodied in Hair Youth.

Worth a fortune

Mr. H. A. Youth has not worth a fortune to me. My hair is now, and always has been, my chief glory. I have so many friends who admired this quality, that I could not resist the idea of making it available to all.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

THE STRAND

The same success that marked the stage production by George M. Cohan, himself, is characterizing the presentation on the screen of "The Menace Man in the World," which will be shown for the first time today at the Strand. Bert Lytell is appearing in the original role of Cohan's, and he's making one of his biggest hits in it. Blanche Sweet, Bryant Washburn and others of screen note are engaged in the cast. The second feature is "A Woman's Woman," with Mary Alden, a figure of note in the screen world, who again portrays the role of a mother, as only a Mary Alden can. This is the last showing of these two features.

The forbidden story of Paris and Monte Carlo—made from a book that is banned by continental police because it tells too much is "Poisoned Paradise," the feature presentation on the Strand program for the week-end, starting with Thursday's matinee. In it Kenneth Harlan, Raymond Griffith, Carmel Myers and Clara Bow are engaged in the principal characterizations. Monte Carlo and the impressions it made on the author are interestingly reflected in this offering. This exposure was a triple ton crank for the comfort of the officials of the gambling resort with the result that the sale of the novel in that principality was prohibited.

The second feature on the week-end bill is the fascinating, spell-binding, marvelous photoplay, "Napoleon and Josephine," a replica of the highly successful stage play that played all of the larger cities of Europe and this country. More than two millions of dollars was expended in this production. The usual comedy and weekly will all out a program of merit.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Two feature attractions of exceptional merit have been booked by Manager Peterson for the week-end at the Merrimack Square theatre. They are "The Dawn of a Tomorrow," a George Melford Paramount production starring Jacqueline Logan and "On Time," one of Richard Talmadge's most thrilling pieces of screen work. Here's a layout of attractions that you'll have to go far to equal. In addition, there will be an excellent program of surrounding features, including a comedy, "The Southbound Limited," starring Monte Banks, and the latest international news.

The story of "The Dawn of a Tomorrow" by Frances Hodgson Burnett differs from all other successful plays that have been pictured in that it underlines the importance of one's own intellectual attitude toward life, and the effects of things unseen and only thought.

Miss Logan's role as the London wife, Glad, who makes things come right by the strength of her "wish" and "ask-in," we regard as one of the greatest attainments of her phenomenal career. There is an inner force about her acting that radiates her impersonation and makes it both strong and winning. In the scene in which she repels the advances of a dashing degenerate and forces him to do her will, she is superbly convincing. Her impersonation of "Glad" is a very excellent assistance from Talmadge and Griffith, the two other feature players, and from several members of the supporting cast. Among them are Stuart Holmes, Tom Wilson, Gen. Skelton, Charles Cary and Douglas Gerard.

Go to the devil is just what Richard Talmadge does in "On Time," the other feature for the week-end, and in doing so starts the most fantastic, thrilling and humorous sequence of events that have come to the screen of Merrimack Square in a long time. Of exceptional interest to moviegoers will be the starting stunts performed by the star at the risk of life, such, for example, as jumping from the top of a telegraph pole, seven stories in the air to the roof of an adjoining building. Supporting the star are Billie Dove, Stuart Holmes, Tom Wilson, Gen. Skelton, Charles Cary and Douglas Gerard.

The management announces for the first four days of next week, beginning Sunday afternoon, the screen version of the celebrated novel, "If Winter Comes."

STRAND THEATRE NEXT WEEK

At the Strand on Sunday next will be held the much-heralded local premier of the Universal picture, "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," which won the unqualified praise of New York and Boston critics of recent date, being generally heralded as the greatest achievement of the screen. Throughout the Hugo masterpiece runs a beautiful love story.

certain changes being made in order to avoid offending certain religious bodies, but these changes have been endorsed by all who have seen the production. Lon Chaney heads the stellar cast of 2001, which includes such notable names as Ernest Torrence, Patsy Ruth Miller, Tully Marshall, Brandon Hurst, Nigel de Brulier and Whitford Brissan. The majority of these are as well known on the stage as the screen.

It is a more serious of words to attempt to emphasize the worth of this super-production by Universal. The author, Victor Hugo, was made famous by this and other stories of world-wide note that have come down for generations. The immensity of the production may be gleaned from the fact that it cost $1,500,000 to produce. The "Cathedral of Notre Dame" was reproduced in every detail, as well as the streets and their buildings of Paris of the time of the story. Lon Chaney's interpretation of the well known character of "Quasimodo," the hunchback, is said to be his best effort in characterization. That Chaney gives it his best efforts may be judged from his remarks when assigned to the part, that "he would give everything he owned rather than give it up."

The local showing will start next Sunday and continue throughout the week with presentations four times daily. Remember, this same picture was shown in Boston at $2 prices, and re-

Wonderful Airings in a Lloyd

How fortunate are the babies who spend several hours every day in Lloyd Loom Carriages! They are content in the luxurious comfort which these deep-cushioned easy-riding carriages afford. And their mothers are happy in the knowledge that their babies have the prettiest carriages of them all.

Lloyd Carriages have a beauty that no other carriage can imitate—the beauty of a graceful bowl shape, sweeping curves and wicker in rolls. A patented spiral weaving process and the famous Lloyd Loom produce this different type of carriage. Woven from a single, continuous strand of finest wicker, it has no seams, corners or short ends of wicker to mar its beauty or detract from its strength. In addition, the remarkable speed of this weaving method cuts its cost amazingly. See this finer carriage at your dealer's. Look for the Lloyd name plate on the seat. Lloyd Loom Furniture and Doll Carriages, woven by the same spiral method, are on sale at leading dealers. Mail coupon for dealer's name.

Lightning-Like Ray Will Change Wars

BY MILTON BRONNER.
N.E.A. Service Writer

LONDON, April 29.—Somewhere in the west of England, hidden by the British government, H. Grindle-Matthews, young scientist, is experimenting with a mysterious and terrific power which is likely to change entirely the nature of the next war.

"This power is like lightning, artificially made, and directed so that armies and materiel can be destroyed at the will of one man."

None is permitted to see the inventor. One of his assistants described the ray to me in this way:

"It is a sort of path through which we transmit power. It is most easily compared to lightning. When lightning has no clear path, it zigzags about until it strikes a tree, house or some other conductor which gives it a path to the earth. The power we have discovered is a form of electricity which we use as a path just as lightning uses the tree."

"It hasn't been tested out on a large scale yet, but I can say that in a distance of 40 feet we have used it. We have killed mice instantly, shriveled up live plants, exploded gun powder and cartridges, set fire to various inflammable things, lighted electric lamps and put out of action the mechanism of airplanes and motor cars."

"If our experiments on a large scale bear out what we have done in a small way, then our formulae show that for thousands we could build a plant that would maintain a barrage for 50 miles around London and for five miles up in the air. As the ray is invisible, a hostile airplane crew could not detect it and would not know when we were turning it in its direction. Zeppelins wouldn't live more than a few seconds."

That the other day the name of Grindle-Matthews was unknown to the British people. It has just been revealed that the British government for some discovery during the war had paid him $125,000 within 24 hours after he told the authorities about it.

KNIGHTS MEET IN ELKS' LODGE ROOMS

In the parlor of the Elks' lodge rooms last night the exemplification committee of Bishop Delany assembly, Fourth Degree, K. of C., held a meeting and gave the plans for the master degree on May 18 added impetus. In opening the meeting, the chairman referred to the loss by fire of the building in Dutton street and wanted to express his thanks to the Elks, through Exalted Ruler James E. Donnelly, for the quarters they extended the committee. He read a telegram from Louis W. Bell, Hon. James R. Casey and Edward P. Saunders and Charles McCreary, president of the assembly, expressing regret at the loss of the beautifully appointed building. The degree, as announced, he said, will be held on May 18.

Young Married Women Need Mother's Advice—

MRS. PEARL STEELE
HOLDEN, MISSOURI

A GREAT many women after childbirth get up too soon and, too weak to care for the child and perform their household duties, often bring on serious derangements.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid tonic to take at this time; it is an excellent restorative, contains no harmful drugs, and can be taken in safety by nursing mothers. Thousands of mothers advise their daughters to take this grand old root and herb medicine for such conditions because of their own favorable experience with it.

Following We Publish an Interesting Letter From Mrs. Steele of Holden, Which Should Interest Every Mother in the Land:

HOLDEN, MO. "When my second child was born I got up too soon as my mother wasn't able to do for me. I could not stand on my feet without being dizzy and my back would ache so badly that I would have to lie down at times through the day. My mother had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and had a bottle of it at the time so she begged me to take it which I did and I cannot tell you how much better I felt after taking it. Then a year later my husband got back from overseas and we went in keeping house by ourselves and I got all run down again. I couldn't work long at a time but would have to sit down and rest. My husband kept begging me to take the Vegetable Compound again so I have done so. I recommend it when I can as I know it is good for women's troubles and I thought you might like to know what it has done for me."—MRS. PEARL M. STEELE, Holden, Missouri.

Another Interesting Case
CLAYMONT, DELAWARE.—"I was all run-down and in a weak condition when I married. I had many of the troubles women often have and the birth of my children let me almost a wreck. One day my brother-in-law was visiting us and asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I said, 'It's no use, as nothing does me any good.' He asked me if I would take it if he would buy it, and to please him I said, 'Yes.' He bought me three bottles before there was a chance so you see I was pretty badly off. I couldn't do any work before this, and kept a girl. I got so well I did my own work and later had more children and kept a good health. I did all my work and take in sewing too, and am raising plants for Memorial Day. I feel younger than I did at twenty because I have good health."—MRS. L. A. LAMBY, Claymont, Delaware.

The total vote polled in Lowell, both republican and democratic, was approximately 5000, with the democrats greatly outnumbering the republicans, who had no contests of any nature within the district or out of it. Alternate district delegates chosen by the democrats were the only two ballot candidates, Michael H. Hear and John J. Mullaney, both of this city. About one hundred stickers were used for Representatives Thomas J. Corbett and Charles H. Stoway and unless another sticker candidate, Mrs. Maybelle A. Kelley of Hudson, can better their totals, the local legislators will also go to the New York convention as alternates. Mrs. Kelley received three votes in Lowell.

Senator David I. Walsh led the democratic-at-large ticket in Lowell, with John F. Doherty, Mrs. Susan W. FitzGerald and Mrs. Rose Herbert following in order. Gen. Charles H. Cole did not run particularly well here, although though victorious in the state. Everywhere in Lowell Cole trailed behind the grouped candidates and the same applies to William H. Doyle of Malden, candidate for alternate delegate-at-large outside the group of eight. Gen. Cole is picked to Governor Smith of New York.

The republican vote in Lowell was very, very small, due to the absence of contests. The at-large delegation travelled along as one man, although in no precinct did the total vote go above 50.

BILLERICA

In Thomas Talbot Memorial hall tonight and tomorrow night, the Alhambra Dramatic club of St. Andrew's church, North Billerica, will present the popular three-act drama, entitled: "The Parish Priest." The play is to be given under the direction of James H. Cannon of Lowell, both well-known in amateur theatrical productions. Between the acts, novelty numbers will be presented by Lowell talent.

The Alhambra club, under Rev. Fr. Cunningham, its spiritual director, made an auspicious debut in Billerica and Lowell audiences in the presentation, last September, of "My Irish Rose," expertly finished in their respective parts, the male and female characters executed their part with an air of perfection. The success of that initial presentation led its sponsors to start immediate plans for another show, and "The Parish Priest" is the result. A capacity audience is expected to attend the first performance, which starts at 8 o'clock this evening.

GOV. HYDE OF MISSOURI FOR VICE PRESIDENT

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., July 30.—Governor Arthur M. Hyde's hat was tossed into the ring for the republican nomination for vice president by the republican state convention here last night, which instructed the Missouri delegation to the national convention to support him. The convention linked the endorsement of Governor Hyde with that of Calvin Coolidge, for the presidential nomination. The convention went on record as opposed to any organization or movement which fosters racial hatred or bridges civil or religious rights.

Don't Neglect a Cold

Mothers, don't let colds get under way; at the first cough or sniffle rub Musterole on the throat and chest.

Musterole is a pure, white Ointment, made with oil of mustard. It draws out congestion, relieves soreness, does all the work of the good old-fashioned mustard plaster in a gentler way, without the blister.

Keep a jar handy for all emergencies; it may prevent pneumonia in your home.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

HIALEO THEATRE

Premature Old Age of Women

It is no secret that so many women suffer from ailments peculiar to their sex. Dark circles appear under the eyes, a pale, drawn, haggard expression to the countenance, and the weakness which accompanies such ailments is evidenced by the lagging step, headaches, backache and nervous conditions. Every woman, who is afflicted in this way should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for half a century has been overcoming some of the most stubborn ailments of women. Adv.

plete with dramatic thrills and is guaranteed to furnish a good evening's entertainment. The scene in which Mix, barehanded attacks a pack of wolves, is alone worth the price of admission. "North of Hudson Bay" will forever be remembered as the greatest picture ever made by Mix. It's different! It's thrilling! It will be shown the remainder of the week.

Other attractions on the bill include "Confess! Love," a race track story, a Huddy Messenger comedy and a Fox News.

R. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

The Four Diamonds, no, no and the boys, put barrels of life into the bill at the R. F. Keith theatre, this week. Their dancing and acrobatic feats are pushed along at top speed, and the demonstration which has thus far followed their work has been unusual. "Chain & Archer," with their conversational comedy will hold you to the end. They are real top-line performers. "The Piano Tuner," with Charles O'Connell in the title role, is really one of the most amusing of farces. Then there are Geo. Watts and Belle Hawley in a hilarious combination of comedy and music, who stand well up on the bill. Brown & Layette do a variety of things well and the "Piano Tuner" are among the best acrobats on the stage. The week's picture is "The Bare Foot Boy."

LOWELL TEXTILE SCHOOL

Annual Show and Dance to Be Held in Auditorium May 9

Paul Whiteman's Lovatians orchestra is to be the extra attraction at the annual show and dance of the Lowell Textile school, which is to be held in the Auditorium on May 9th, one week from Friday night. When the initial arrangements were made for this year's play the student management searched New England for the leading orchestra obtainable and they have secured this orchestra, that is known all over the country as one of the foremost exponents of jazz music. The Lovatians returns to Boston next week from the transatlantic trip, and the orchestra will come to Lowell for this occasion only.

The dancing will start at 10 o'clock and continue until 2 a. m. Previous to this the students will present "Nothing But the Truth," a three-act comedy in which will be seen several Lowell boys. In the last few years the Textile school students have presented some of the best amateur productions seen in the city. The female impersonations of several members of the cast have been exceptionally good.

Last year the Textile boys presented a musical comedy, "Frishtance," which was entirely written and enacted by the students. The female parts and choruses were taken by the boys with surprising ability. Most remarkable, however, was the work of Howard M. Brigham, who played the leading female role. Several evenings before the play last year he appeared before several thousand people in the Auditorium at a beauty contest held by Rudolph Valentino. By his acting and perfection of makeup, Brigham was proclaimed the "second most beautiful girl in Lowell" after completely fooling thousands who thought he was a girl. This feat was published all over the country and raised Textile school shows to a new height. This year also, Mr. Brigham will carry the leading role and John J. Mc-

Connell, Jr., of Lowell, who also starred as a female impersonator last year, will again be seen in a female role.

The play to be presented has been coached by Frank E. Fowles of Mellen, a professional coach, whose son, Edwin D. Fowles, a student at Textile, was the author of last year's play, "James H. Dow, of 149 B street, instructor in English at Textile and well known locally for his coaching of many amateur dramatics, is the assistant coach. Edward B. Bell, another Lowell boy who graduated from the Lowell high school in 1920, is the stage manager of the performance. Last year he very capably played one of the female roles.

The cast for "Nothing But the Truth" is made up of students from the status of Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, and South Carolina. There are three Lowell boys, John J. McCann, Jr., of 90 Beech street who last year carried a female part in "Frishtance," Leonard B. Wilcox and Harold R. Anderson.

The entire cast includes Harry H. Jones of Albany, N. Y., Frank R. Gary of Abbeville, S. C., Lawrence W. Guild of Quincy, Mass., Donald S. McKenzie of Concord, Mass., Herbert R. Perry, Jr., of Northampton, Mass., Howard M. Brigham of Upper Montclair, N. J., Leonard E. Wilcox, John J. McCann, Jr., Harold R. Anderson of Lowell, M. Kenneth Ryan of Natick, Mass., and D. Scott Clement of North Adams, Mass.

WILL AD H. S. ATHLETICS YANKS TIED FOR THE LEAD

Chamber of Commerce to Confer With Alumni Association Heads

An intensive campaign with the substantial backing of representative Lowell men and necessary resources, may soon be inaugurated by leading members of Lowell chamber of commerce if present plans are not altered.

Secretary-Manager George F. Wells, reporting today some of the proceedings incident to the special meeting of the chamber directors, held yesterday afternoon, announced that all members present expressed themselves favorably in support of a strong movement to aid Lowell high school athletic association in all future aspirations.

In order to ascertain just what the Alumni association actually needs in the way of support from the chamber body, this directors' committee—Chas. M. Runkle, Harry G. Pellard and Charles W. Adams—will take up a report at the regular semi-monthly meeting of the directors, to be held next Monday noon (with dinner) at chamber headquarters.

While the chamber of commerce has always cordially supported all important athletic programs promoted by local schools of all grades, and is today strongly backing with its entire membership the ambitious programs of the high school athletes and their supervisors, it is felt that some working agreement with the Lowell High School Alumni association to start with, would produce better results for the ambitious youth if they could rely upon something more substantial than applause and good news.

Not only are chamber directors prepared to do everything possible to advance the interests of all future high school athletes, but it is proposed to have an immediate consultation with directors of the alumni association as soon as can be convenient for all parties, with the main object of creating more sentiment in high school athletes in general and more substantial financial support for the betterment of the school as a whole and the good name of Lowell.

A committee of three announced today will endeavor to have a preliminary report to make next Monday at the directors' meeting. No plan of co-operation has been considered as yet, members desiring to find out first just how the Lowell business organization could best proceed in assisting the spirit of sports in Lowell high school athletic departments.

The Washington moundmen issued 15 passes and permitted 13 hits in the Red Sox 15-4 triumph.

Catcher Mike Gonzalez, traded by Brooklyn to St. Louis, as part payment for Milton Stock, was the Cincinnati pitcher in a 3 to 1 cardinal victory.

Mike's two doubles, the second coming with the bases jammed, drove in four runs. League was ineffective.

Steele reported to Brooklyn yesterday but his scheduled start for Boston was postponed by rain, which also prevented the Cleveland-St. Louis game.

NEW YORK, April 30.—Revolt against the player writer ruling of the United States Lawn Tennis association which led to the resignation from the association of the champion of William T. Tilden, national champion, and Vincent Richards took definite form yesterday when the members of the West Side Tennis club here secured a sufficient number of signatures to petition that club for action on the matter.

It is reported that other clubs throughout the country will also take steps to repudiate the question and permit a revitalization of public sentiment. The voting at the March meeting of the U.S.L.T.A., when the rule was adopted, was 10-10, with 10 players favoring the rule and only 10 opposing it, but it is not known how many of the delegates were instructed by their constituents.

In announcing his intention to follow Tilden's lead, Vincent Richards yesterday predicted startling developments in follow in the "war" between players who write and the millionaire clique which has been apparently striving to take democracy out of the sport game and make it more for the rich and the Newport element.

NEW YORK, April 30.—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, world's heavyweight wrestling champion, was forced to seek police protection for the second time recently when several thousands of spectators, enraged at referee Charles Lavigne's decision giving Lewis his second fall over Mike Roman, Italian challenger, last night, gathered for a long time in front of the arena and attempted to rush into the ring. Lewis was rescued and taken to his hotel in a police patrol wagon.

NEW YORK, April 30.—After the season's record of eight consecutive victories which began when they captured seventh place, the New York Yankees, champions of the baseball universe, were passed into a tie for first place in the American league yesterday by the weather man.

The champion's contest in Philadelphia was one of four postponed by the weather man. The first Boston American victory in 10 days was achieved over the protesting bodies of 13 Senators, including six pitchers, none of whom lasted longer than three innings.

FINE AMATEUR BOXING SHOW WITNESSED BY GOOD CROWD

22 Bouts Staged by Lisbon Social and Athletic Club in Crescent Rink—Mello Continues Victorious Sweep—Gus Anderson Wins in 126-Pound Class

Crescent rink was the scene of hectic combat last night when 22 brilliant action amateur bouts were staged under the auspices of the Lisbon Social and Athletic club headed by the energetic John Souza.

A large and enthusiastic crowd viewed the battles, featuring local and out-of-town boys in the 105, 118, 126, 135 and 147-pound divisions, and while there were knockouts of every variety, the butchers, as a rule, provided plenty of good sport for the fans.

Among the many features of the all-star show were Al Mello, local Olympic prospect, and Pat Gavin of South Boston, a promising 147-pounder. Gavin was rangier than Mello and awed the crowd in the first round with a neat and clever exhibition of punching and self-protection. For a time it looked as though the flashy Lowell boy would have to work hard to earn the verdict.

Like countless other opponents who have faced Mello, however, he eventually found the pace and Mello was getting in his terrible body blows that no human can assimilate and remain on his feet. In the second round, then, Gavin took one to the lution and dropped to the canvas, but he did not issue a pass in 11 in the first round with his follow-up punches, still the undefeated champion of New England in the 147-pound class. Pat Austin of Boston, who was to have been Mello's opponent in another number, failed to show. He is reported as suffering from pneumonia.

A new local luminary in the 126-pound class loomed up last night in the person of Gus Anderson, who demonstrated by his performance that he is the possessor of a punishing pair of hands. Gus was pitted against Red O'Grady in his initial number, and he gave the red-haired boy a real boxing lesson. Red was game and took a lot of punishment before he yielded to the onslaught of his opponent. But it was Anderson's night and he proved it in convincing fashion by gaining a second round in the final over Mike Sarkis of Lawrence. This bout went the distance and was one of the best of the evening. The Lowell boy displayed plenty of grit and stamina in swamping blows with the Lawrencean, but came through with flying colors to land the verdict. Anderson gave every indication of being a cutter in the 125 rank.

Dinny Barry and Red O'Brien, both representatives of the Pawtucketville section of the city, settled their little argument with a furious set-to, lasting two rounds. O'Brien sent his opponent to the showers with a right hand slug to the jaw and came back for the semi-final to face Young Jordan. In this number, Red appeared to have lost his sense of direction. Also his equilibrium, for he took a count of nine with every other blow and sometimes when there was no blow struck at all. He finally succumbed and was counted out.

All the other bouts were of an entertaining nature. One "dive" was particularly noticed in Moffat of Lawrence, who went down and "out" in the first round of a battle with his fellow townsman, Larry. In a few instances, the crowd was tossed into the ring, while there were a couple of amusing incidents such as running around the enclosure to escape an opponent. All added to the amusement derived, however, and made the show the best yet staged by the Lisbon Social boys.

Edward Brennan was the referee; Barney Moran, announcer; Arthur C. Timmer, and G. H. Keefe and T. F. McSorley, judges.

COOLIDGE AND
COX WIN IN OHIO

Sweeping Victories for President and Former Governor in Primary Election

Vote Regarded as the Lightest Ever Cast in Ohio Primary Election

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 30.—(By the Associated Press) Both President Coolidge and former Governor James M. Cox of Ohio, the democratic candidate for president in 1920 won sweeping victories in Ohio's primary elections yesterday. The vote was probably the lightest ever cast in an Ohio primary election, officially estimated at about 15 per cent of the potential vote.

President Coolidge won the state's 51 delegates to the national convention and was given better than a six to one endorsement over United States Senator Hiram Johnson of California.

Mr. Cox probably will go before the democratic national convention with his home state's 45 votes pledged to support him and backed by a popular endorsement of his party by a two and one-half to one vote over William Gibbs McAdoo. His probable 45 votes will be represented by 52 delegates, the eight delegates at large each having but half a vote.

Former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty, defeated four years ago for delegate at large by almost 1000 votes at the time former President Harding carried the state on preferential choice, yesterday was elected a member of the Coolidge slate of delegates at large, but was probably low member of the group. He won over the highest Johnson delegate by about 4 to 1.

The vote in 5145 precincts out of a total of 8850 precincts in the state, showed President Coolidge leading Senator Johnson by more than 100,000 votes, and former Gov. Cox leading Mr. McAdoo by almost 55,000 votes. The vote in 5145 precincts was: Coolidge 127,554; Johnson 20,997; Cox, 32,515; McAdoo, 21,211.

President Coolidge carried every county in the state. Mr. Cox apparently has not been so fortunate as he probably will be forced to yield a few of the smaller counties to Mr. McAdoo.

U. S. Senator Simeon D. Fess was leading the Coolidge slate of delegates at large in returns from 1218 precincts with his colleague, Senator Frank D. Willis, running a close second. Mr. Daugherty made his poorest showing in Hamilton county where he ran

FAIRBURN EMPLOYEES
HAVE GLORIOUS TIME

Fairburn's market workers of both sexes scored a big success at the first post-Lenten party of the season, conducted last evening with a program of many delightful special features by the Mutual Benefit association members employed at the popular pure food emporium.

Odd Fellows' hall in Chelmsford Centre was the scene of the festivities and besides many loyal friends and business associates of the store clerks present and happy, there were guests galore from far-away points and also happy members of the store executive management and staff, eager to enjoy a genuine "Fairburn party" and participated in abundance in the April take of the good-fellowship offerings provided in abundance in the April social calendar.

The entertainment committee provided an excellent banquet, with every delicacy of the season served in beautiful measure to the delight of the association members and their guests. Features of the sparkling post-Lenten party were songs by Fred Cummings, Raymond Kelly, Annabel Conway and Mary McGahey; also special acts by "Bud" Berger. A vaudeville team consisting of John Ball and Edward Donahue, pleased with funny sketches. Favor and novelty dances were featured in addition to one of the best programs ever presented at a "Fairburn special."

The dance hall was pleasantly decorated by William Plant. The committee in general charge of the social consisted of Daniel McGrath, general manager; Frank McGraw, chairman; Thomas Kelly, William Harrington, George Watson, Miss Mary Mullen and Miss Elizabeth Conway.

more than 6000 votes behind William Cooper Proctor, who was high on the list in that, his home county. Mr. Daugherty also was outstripped in his old home county, Fayette, by both Senators Fess and Willis and was last in Franklin county (Columbus) his present home.

WHEN YOU BUY A
BUICK

You get more than just an automobile. Yes, even more than a Buick automobile. You get Buick service, which is, after all, more important than the automobile itself.

When you purchase any automobile, it is the service which the car will give that you really want, not the vehicle itself. The most beautiful automobile in the world would be worthless if you couldn't get service on it and from it.

BUICK SERVICE is spread all over the North American continent. Wherever an accident might occur, Buick service is within easy reach.

BUICK SERVICE IN LOWELL means that you can get any part of a Buick automobile from a fender to a motor at a minute's notice. No long waits for replacement units to be sent from the factory, etc., which necessitates days and perhaps weeks of waiting.

TO USE GRANITE BLOCKS

Permanent Paving to Be Laid By State Within City Limits on Boulevard

Through an agreement reached yesterday in Boston, Princeton boulevard will be paved with a road of granite block with asphalt shoulders, from Livingston avenue to Baldwin street. Mayor Donovan, the members of the board of public service and city engineer Stephen Kearney conferred on the project with Commissioner of Public Works William F. Williams and his two associate engineers.

Mr. Williams explained that the state at this time is ready to build a 26-foot concrete road from Livingston avenue to North Chelmsford square. The city asked that the road be paved for its full width of 32 feet from Livingston avenue to Baldwin street. Mr. Williams replied that as a measure of economy and in order to stretch state funds, only a 26-foot road would be laid.

Mayor Donovan asked what the prices would be for granite block and concrete. Mr. Williams replied that concrete would cost the state but $50,000 as against $87,000 for granite block. The mayor, after a brief talk with the members of the public service board and the city engineer, proposed that the city should put in a 26-foot asphalt shoulder on either side of the state road, leaving a 26-foot wide road in the center. This was agreed upon.

Mr. Williams explained that the granite block is only because it is the most expensive and so a preference for concrete is shown, purely, he added, as a matter of economy. Through the agreement of yesterday Princeton boulevard, for its full width of 32 feet from Livingston avenue to Baldwin street, will consist of granite block paving in the center, 26 feet wide, with 16-foot shoulders of asphalt on either side.

Contractor Jewett, the low bidder for the job, told the mayor that as a result of this agreement he will buy his block locally. He estimated that it will cost $200,000 in the city, if not more, for labor and materials.

LOWELL REAL ESTATE MEN WIN CASE

Albert Bergeron and Dieudonne, St. Pierre of St. Pierre & Bergeron, real estate brokers of this city who were being sued each in the sum of $10,000 by Mrs. Nora McNeill of Everett, won their case at the civil session of the superior court at East Cambridge yesterday.

The case, which was scheduled to go to trial in 1920, was later dismissed because of failure of counsel for the plaintiff to bring it to trial within the time limit set by law. Last October, however, counsel succeeded in again placing the case on the trial list, and the trial was started last week.

The plaintiff alleged that on July 4, 1919, while walking across a boulevard at Everett, Mass., she was struck by an automobile owned by a defendant and operated by one of them, and as a result sustained severe and permanent injuries.

The case was tried before Justice Stanley E. Qua and a jury and yesterday verdicts were rendered for the defendants. The plaintiff was represented by J. Burroughs of Everett, while the defendants' counsel were Arthur L. Eno of this city and John M. Morrison of Boston.

SEIZED LIQUOR SENT TO BOSTON

This morning Capt. George H. Palmer of the local liquor squad packed 33 gallons of alcohol and 44 gallons of beer representing about 90 lots seized in this city since February. The goods were shipped to Boston via truck this afternoon.
